

Joe on Mark Zuckerberg Winning a Jiu-Jitsu Tournament

The Joe Rogan experience You guys should go and do some fucking Muay Thai I stopped I got a concussion and I stopped She's in her soft girl E don't do concussions She's a soft girl Now Joe did you see Mark Zuckerberg won a gold medal in a Brazilian ju jitsu competition No Mark Zuckerberg is a fucking savage This dude has been training jiu-jitsu This is what he did He wore a COVID mask and he fucking put a hat on and he hid and you see a imagine you're right about to compete and like maybe your first competition Well just give it a try I mean what's the worst thing that could happen Worst thing could happen You get strangled by a super nerd I'm very proud of him But I think that's what I think It's amazing It's amazing that he did that A few people have done that Mario Lopez did that Um uh what his name Tom uh B Tom Hardy Tom Hardy did that a couple of times Warrior You know he could be listening to this I just realized that Tom Hardy I'm not going to do that but you know what I mean Tom Hardy You could DM Me I said yes DM Me mommy He was awesome warrior Like I bought it I bought it Hook line and Sinker There's certain dudes that can just be they become different people Like he was a different person in that Venom movie It's like you believed he was that like sort of clumsy character in the venom movie that got affected by an alien He's fucking just to pull that off You know how hard it is to pull off You're you're doing a movie with CG I there's ac G I alien that comes out of you A giant spider creature It's a different place You have to go in your mind at that point He actually pulled it off and he does it Yeah it was good Look at that gold medal dudes fucking jacked We're both just saying about blue belts too That's like by the time you get to blue belt you're dealing with people that know how to submit people It's just whether or not they can keep it together smoothly and there's various levels of that And when you get to tournaments you get like a lot of the levels are like the guys that really should be a purple belt They're like they really purple belt level Like some some instructors are stingy So for him to win blue belt it's very possible He had like real skilled opposition you know not like black belt opposition but they know how to do shit for sure Look at Zuckerberg Strangling bitches Actually that's pretty hot Zuckerberg If you're listening my D MS are open No D MS are open He's in this He doesn't even need the FBI He already heard us and this doesn't air Your fucking phone is lighting up every time his name gets mentioned it goes into a file I'm super I think that's amazing I love when people like just he doesn't have to do anything He's one of the richest people on earth and he just takes a chance and tries to get good at this thing and then goes and competes in this thing We should all celebrate that That's amazing But that's probably why he's one of the richest guys on earth because he just goes for it Commits he's focused Instagram motivational speaker I feel like what you just said right there will stir up He just chose for it He commits Yeah that's the thing You just got to be that kind of person Some people just that's their big problem They don't know what to go for you know so they kind of get stalled in the parking lot like which direction where do I go Because they don't have me giving them motivational stages
